Advances in Digital Technologies Yao-Liang Chung
2016-04-15 The use of digital information and web technologies is now essential to all our lives on a daily basis. In particular, web technologies that enable easy access to digital information in all its forms and regardless of the user's purpose are extremely important. This book presents papers from the 7th International Conference on Applications of Digital Information and Web Technologies (ICADIWT 2016), held in Keelung City, Taiwan, in March 2016. The conference, which has been organized since 2008, is aimed at building the infrastructure necessary for the large-scale development of web technologies, and attracts participants from many countries who attend the conference to demonstrate and discuss their research findings.

The 19 full papers presented at the conference have been arranged into 5 sections: networking; fuzzy systems; intelligent information systems; data communication and protection; and cloud computing. Subjects covered fall under areas such as Internet communication, technologies and software; digital communication software and networks; the Internet of things; databases and applications; and many more. The book will be of interest to all those whose work involves the application of digital information and web technologies.

Lessons in School Improvement from Sub-Saharan Africa
Miriam Mason 2021-12-13

Lessons in School Improvement from Sub-Saharan Africa describes the planning, delivery and evaluation of an improvement programme by EducAid. The evaluation showed that children in schools, whose teachers had taken part in the programme, made more progress in literacy, attendance and behaviour than children in control schools.

Impact of Poor Reading Culture Among Senior High School Students in Nsoatre Abdulai Seidu 2025-04-09 Master's Thesis from the year 2025 in the subject Didactics for the subject English - Grammar, Style, Working Technique, grade: 2, , course: Grammar, language: English, abstract: The Purpose of this study was to investigate the impact of poor reading culture among students of Sacred Heart Senior High School in Nsoatre, Brong Ahafo Region. Qualitative method was employed to collect data for the study. The purposive sampling technique was used to select sixty (60) participants consisting of fifty students, five teachers and five parents. The instruments used to collect data for the study were made of unstructured questionnaire items, observation, interviews and focused group discussion. Findings of the study revealed that, in Sacred Heart Senior High School, students' poor reading culture leads them to perform poorly academically and is the reason why students indulge in examination malpractices. It also revealed that modernity has taken away students' reading life. Based on the findings, it was recommended that, reading should be associated with pleasure and libraries be stocked with modernised and interesting reading materials. Additionally, students should be motivated to read by going on excursions to well-established libraries and book exhibition centres. Finally, it was recommended that teachers use attractive teaching learning materials as well as learner centred approaches to teach reading and stakeholders should sell the noble idea of developing good reading culture. Keywords: Reading, approaches, focused group discussions, interviews, qualitative method.

The Practice of International Development

Jerrold Keilson 2017-09-22 Development analysts tend to give short shrift to the seemingly minor bureaucratic hitches faced by practitioners—those who design, manage, implement, and evaluate aid projects. Often critical of foreign aid either for its apparent ineffectiveness at alleviating poverty or its purported neocolonial implications, the academic literature rarely acknowledges the experiences and pressures faced by practitioners themselves as they implement aid-funded development projects—the meetings, paperwork, negotiations, site visits, financial transactions, logistical arrangements, interviews, program activities, and beneficiary interactions—that keep projects running. And yet the impact of aid projects, and indeed the impact of development itself, often grows out of the daily activities and personal interactions of development practitioners. This unique book considers challenges from the perspective of development practitioners who confront technical, managerial, political, theoretical, and moral quandaries on a daily basis. With chapters written by expert practitioners on different aspects of design and management of international development activities, this book examines real issues and navigates the often contradictory demands of local development needs, including international donor imperatives; limited financial resources, time, information, and assurance of results; the competing pulls of administrative efficiency; and the desire to alleviate suffering. It also gives readers access to the crucial but little-heard voices of those who spend their professional lives designing and managing foreign aid projects, offering insight into what did or did not work on projects they have managed, implemented, or evaluated. These insights do not seek to identify universally right or wrong ways of doing development; instead, they highlight pros and cons associated with various approaches and decisions. This book provides valuable insights for students and others interested in a development career, encourages practitioners to engage in reflection, and persuades researchers to further consider the influence of practice on project success or failure.

Sustainable Development and Social

Responsibility—Volume 2

Ahmed N. Al-Masri 2020-01-13

This book gathers high-quality research papers presented at the 2nd AUE international research conference, AUEIRC 2018, which was organized by the American University in the Emirates, Dubai, and held on November 13th-15th, 2018.

The book is broadly divided into two main sections: Sustainability and Smart Business, and Sustainability and Creative Industries. The broad range of topics covered under these sections includes: risk assessment in agriculture, corporate social responsibility and the role of intermediaries, the impact of privatizing health insurance, political events and their effect on foreign currency
